

PresentChild

A gift for you and your family

Janita Venema

Table of Contents

Foreword by Roy Martina

Foreword by Jean Thompson

Introduction

Where it all began

Before you begin

The PresentChild exercise in the case of unpleasant behaviour

The Sensation exercise, pausing to reflect on your truth

A change of tack

Acting according to what you know

Peace of mind

Mirroring

Blind spots

Love or fear

The secret cave

Wishing for what you really want

Learning to speak whole language

Once upon a time...

Treasure from the past

The PresentChild exercise in the case of good behaviour

Coincidence or Co-incidence

Invisible bonds

The healing of his birth

My rebirth

The soul

Deeply connected yet individual paths

What bliss

Femininity

Subpersonalities

The great spirit

Novice and master

On the roundabout

High time

The PresentChild exercise when your child is ill

The spell is broken

Choosing a mission in life
The relationship between parents
Family dynamics
The bridge is built
With love
Insight or experience?
A child is born
Understanding children
My life is my answer

A framework for the PresentChild Method

Introduction
Psychology: signals from the soul
Philosophy
Spirituality and religion
Outposts of science
Language and communication
Other cultures
Education and pedagogy
In conclusion

Epilogue
Acknowledgements
Bibliography
Notes